

Objective: You will write a story in the genre you drew, using the character you drew as a protagonist.

Your story needs:

- Title
- Characterization (name, description, characteristics, etc.)
- Other characters interacting with your protagonist
- Outside Cover: Title, character
- Minimum 5 front and back pages of text (the actual story)
- Can have illustrations if you want to, but should be mostly text
- Back outside cover: a blurb to get people excited about reading the book (should be short and hook the reader, give them an idea of what they are going to read about)

Steps:

- Outline your story on the blank rollercoaster
- Write a rough draft
- Publish the story:
  - write neatly on notebook paper cut to the size of the cover sheets
  - glue your wooden character to the front and decorate with author/title
  - bind the pages together with string
